about me

Hi! I'm Seyed Ali Tabatabaei, a backend developer and DevOps enthusiast from Qom, Iran. I currently work at Tank.ir, where I get to build cool backend systems and play with infrastructure tools that keep everything running smoothly.

I'm most at home writing Python code (especially with FastAPI) and tinkering with tools like Docker, Kubernetes, and Linux. I love experimenting with new tech — whether it's setting up a Ceph cluster, monitoring with Prometheus and Grafana, or messing around with VM
